Why am I here?

- Its about doing what works – it can solve a problem for good
- Its about the future of meeting need – sharing capacity, resources and responsibility
- It's about the whole system – new configurations and combinations between public and public services

Looking at it all another way...

- a relationship of trust
- your priorities not mine
- humility
- peer support
- purpose and relationships
- effective resourceful support

Parent leaders

We're bringing together a group of parents. We're helping them develop the vision, confidence and skills to be equal partners in plans to improve the lives of Coventry children.

And why are we doing this? We're doing it so that parents are strong enough to change the conversation between themselves and services. It's the only way to get it right.
